Technology Announcement

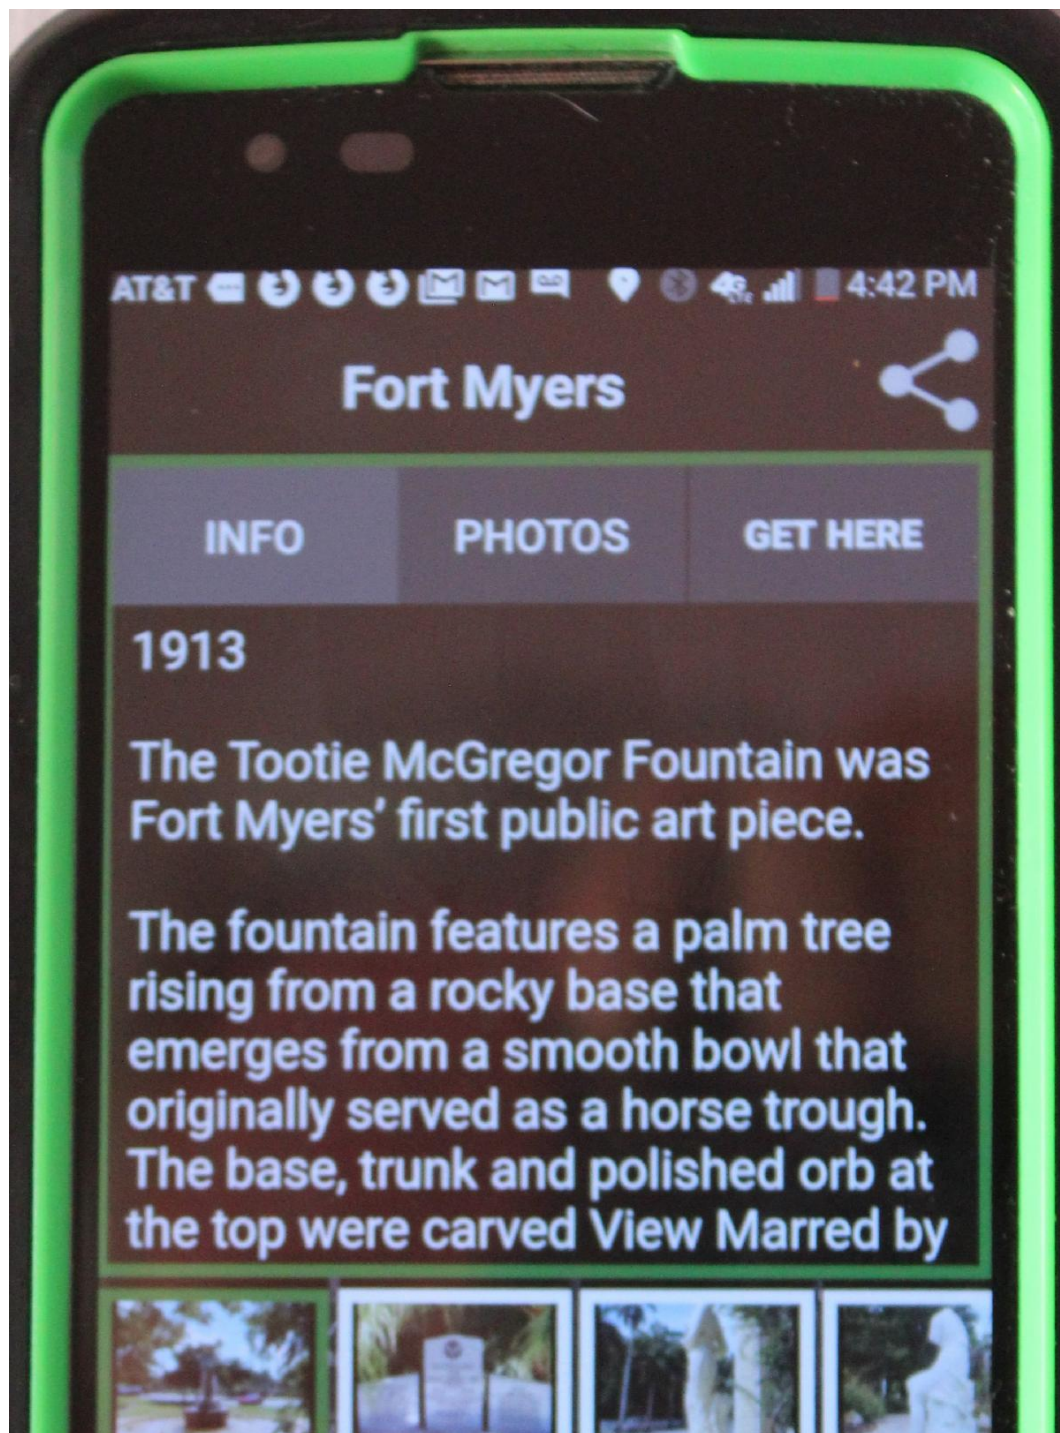

City of Fort Myers

Public art delivers dozens of benefits, but only if people are familiar with the artworks they see around them. With that in mind, the City of Fort Myers has subscribed to Otocast, a free mobile app that can be used by anyone with a smart phone.

The City has just uploaded text, photos and audios that share behind-the-scenes stories about 19 outdoor artworks that were recorded by artists, authors and local "people in the know." And the reception from area arts organizations, local businesses, hoteliers, the Visitor & Convention Bureau, media and the public has been over-the-top enthusiastic!

The #1 comment we're hearing: "Wow, I never knew that!"
